

[18] Quod promisit ab eterno

[G6] [295]

[18a] Crucifigat omnes

[D3] [70]

W2 ff. 111-112v

1. Quod

1. Quod

pro-mi-sit ab e-ter-

pro-mi-sit ab e-ter-

no, 2. di-e sol-vit ho-di-er-

no, 2. di-e sol-vit ho-di-er-

no, 3. ver-bum mit-tens de su-per-no,

no, 3. ver-bum mit-tens de su-per-no,

4. pa-ter in Y-du-me [am.]

4. pa-ter in Y-du-me [am.]

3

am. II 5. Le- vis nu- bes et

am. II 5. Le- vis nu- bes et

vi- ta- [lis,] lis,

vi- ta- [lis,] lis,

4

6. mun- da ca- ro vir- gi- na- lis,

6. mun- da ca- ro vir- gi- na- lis,

7. no- bis plu- ens spi- ri- ta- lis

7. no- bis plu- ens spi- ri- ta- lis

8. ro- ris ple- ni- tu- di-

8. ro- ris ple- ni- tu- di-

5

nem. III 9. O- lim fu- it

nem. III 9. O- lim fu- it

6

ar- gu- men- tum, 10. ver- bi sig- nans

ar- gu- men- tum, 10. ver- bi sig- nans

in- du- men-

in- du- men-

7

tum 11. nu- bes,

tum 11. nu- bes,

fe- rens ad-

fe- rens ad-

[rit.] iu- men- tum 12. lu- cis et um-

[rit.] iu- men- tum 12. lu- cis et um-

8 *

bra- cu-

bra- cu-

9

*See [10] Crucifigat Omnes

10

11

li.
li.

What the Father promised from the ages, He fulfilled today, sending the Word from on high to Edom.

Light and living cloud, pure virginal flesh, raining for us a plenitude of spiritual dew.

Once there was a symbol signifying the garment of the Word, a cloud bringing the help of light and shade.

J.W.